Ministers of Justice, Finance, Interior and Public Works. It was recommended that a fee of 25c. be charged and that parliamentary rules decide upon the expulsion or disqualification of members. The committee recommended that parliament elect a clerk and sergeant at arms to which office any member will be eligible, also that it be optional with each government to open their regime by a speech from the throne or to introduce their first bill without preliminaries. Another suggestion was, that after the first meeting, no bill shall be introduced unless previous to its introduction for final reading. Speeches are to be limited to ten minutes each. THE BALLOT.

The reports received regarding the use of the new ballot in the recent Northwest assembly elections are almost universally favorable. It is said to be easily understood and very little liable to cause mistakes. The number of spoiled ballots has been unusually small, and would have been smaller had there been a little more experience in the handling of the ballot or had copies of the ordinance been more generally distributed before the election. It is expressly stated in the ordinance that the ballot shall be counted according to the color which appears upon its face, that is without regard to the shape of the marking. Notwithstanding this some returning officers threw out all ballots that were not marked in the form of an "X." In St. Albert there were said to be thirteen "spoiled" ballots, while on only one of these was the intent of the voter not made apparent by the color on the paper. On that one both colors had been used, and of course it could not be counted. No doubt the voter had taken up the wrong pencil when making the first mark. Instead of handing in this ballot, which he must have known could not be counted, he might have returned it to the deputy returning officer and received a new one upon which to record his vote. The difference between the number of ballots counted by the deputy returning officers and that counted by the returning officer, which in some cases altered the result as at first announced, arose not from a difference of opinion as to what constituted a spoiled ballot, but from the fact that votes objected to by scrutineers on polling day were not counted by the deputy returning officers; while as many of them as were allowed by the court of revision were counted by the returning officer. The provision for a court of revision to decide the qualifications of doubtful voters is a great saving of expense to the country compared with that of compiling voters' lists before the election and seems to have given quite as satisfactory results. The fact that a vote improperly cast can be afterwards counted out takes away a great deal of the inducement to risk punishment for the sake of getting in the illegal vote.

SCHOOL BOARD.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the Edmonton school district was held in T. W. Chalmers office on Wednesday afternoon. Present M. McCauley, chairman, and Messrs McDougall, McDonald and Oliver.

A report was received from the principal of the school, A. M. Campbell, dealing with school matters in the district and tendering his resignation as principal, to take effect at the end of the year.

Messrs McDonald and McDougall moved that the report be received and that Mr. Campbell's resignation be accepted.

Accounts were received from Edmonston & Flater for drawing plans of proposed school house $ 50.00
S. Bailey, water, 1.00
W. F. Sudebaker, cleaning closets, 4.00
Pay sheet for month, 324.65
F. H. Andrews, 1.35

Messrs McDonald and McDougall moved that the above accounts be paid.

The secretary was instructed to ask for tenders for coal.

Also to get the school building banked.

Also to advertise in the Toronto Mail for a male teacher with first-class certificate as principal, at a salary of $1,000, a teacher, male or female, with first-class certificate as first assistant, at a salary of $800, and a female teacher holding second-class certificate for primary school at a salary of $600.

Also to make application to the town council for the use of the council chambers as a school room for the present Fraser avenue school, offering $20 a month rent, occupation to begin on December 1st.

In the evening the father of the bride entertained the guests to a dance in Parrish's hall. The ball room was very prettily decorated with evergreens and a festoon of bunting in various colours, hung to the centre of the hall. It was largely attended and very much enjoyed. GENERAL NEWS.

The sale of C. P. R. lands has been less this year than last.

The number of settlers entering the Northwest Territories during the month of October was 320.

10,000 head of cattle were shipped to Great Britain from the Northwest and Manitoba during October.

Nicholas II has ascended the throne of Russia and the Grand Duke George becomes heir apparent.

The first shipment of Canadian cattle to France arrived at St. Malo in good condition last month; four hundred head.

The new land and registry office at Prince Albert has been completed for some time; but the officials do not move into it.

The Winnipeg delegation has returned from Ottawa and say that the government have promised assistance to the Hudson's Bay railroad.

Mr. Boyd, a settler from Big Bend, who was brought into the MacLeod barracks on a charge of lunacy, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife that he had concealed.

A visitor to Qu'Appelle who thought Indians understood weather probabilities asked one of them what kind of a winter was going to have. The Indian replied "I tell you better in the spring."

At Pope's gold mine Ishpeming, Mich., a spring containing a little gold in solution has been struck. The men working in it, who were habitual liquor drinkers, now find themselves disliking stimulants.

Ranchers in the Northwest are trying to poison the timber wolf which is one of the most wary of animals. It has been found that a mixture of strychnine with asafetida is a temptation no wolf can resist.

The railway rates on lumber are said to discriminate against Prince Albert and the branch lines. The Advocate says: "But Portage dealers are given a rate of 15 cents per 100 pounds for practically the same distance as Prince Albert dealers are charged 27 cents per 100 pounds."

Percy B. Neale the absconding collector of customs at MacLeod, was tried before Hon. Justice Richardson at Regina on Nov. 1st. He was charged on two counts and pleaded guilty to both. Sentence to penitentiary for seven years for each offence was passed.

Mr. N.E. Davin's descriptive phraseology leads him to call an opponent "a quart of fermenting soapuds in a pint bottle," to which the Mooseman Spectator answers in language equally as forcible and descriptive "his remarks are like the discolored blotches on a fitch of bacon."

A commission has been appointed by the Dominion government to hold meetings at different points in the Northwest and Manitoba to take evidence in the matter of railway freight rates charged by the C. P. R. The commissioners appointed are, Peter S. Archibald, chief engineer of the Intercolonial railway; William Pearce, superintendent of mines; and W. N. Allison, home-stand inspector. The secretary of the commission is W. Schaeffer, travelling freight agent of the Intercolonial railway.

The gold output from Edmonton, which is a farming district, has been greater than that from any point in the Kootenay district where placer mining is followed. The output from Nelson has been $80,000, Trout Lake $20,000, Revelstoke $10,000 and Fort Steele $10,000 or a total of $30,000. At Trail Creek $150,000 has been taken out by quartz mining and at Nelson $20,000. From these last figures the Slocan Times places the output of the Kootenay country at $200,000. The Edmonton yield, as far as known is about $15,000, $13,200 having already been sold. There is still a lot in miners' hands.

S. A. Thompson, formerly secretary of Duluth Chamber of Commerce, and now associate editor of the Daily Commonwealth has returned from a tour of the Canadian Northwest, having spent some time in the Calgary, Edmonton, Red Deer, Prince Albert and other districts. He is gathering information and statistics for a series of magazine articles on the Northwest. Mr. Thompson has attained a national reputation as a writer on commercial and transportation questions, and his contributions on inland navigation have been extensively quoted in the discussion of enlarging the series of canals from Port Arthur to the St. Lawrence river. Mr. Thompson leaves for the south tomorrow.—Nor-Wester.

Winnipeg Tribune.—Mr. Henry Kruger, a German settler from Leduc, 20 miles east of Edmonton, arrived in the city yesterday on his way to Argyle, Marshall Co., Minn., from which place he intends to bring 17 families to settle in the Leduc colony. He declares the land in this colony to be the richest in the world. He has been there three years, and when he first settled he decided to test the capability of the soil and harvested one acre which he purposely prepared. Last year potatoes were grown upon it and this year oats. While the potatoes showed an excellent crop, there was nothing of a phenomenal nature connected with them; but the acre of oats produced no less than 207 bushels. Mr. Kruger says there are 46 families in the colony, all doing well, and he expects to return with the 17 he has in view in about a fortnight. In answer to a question he said he had seen no frost to injure the crops since he had been there.

"Calf Shirt" is probably better known than any other Blood Indian in this vicinity and he certainly can put "the fear of God" into the average man quicker than greased lightning. He is the snake charmer of the third branch of the great Blackfoot nation, and he handles the deadly rattlesnake with the most consummate indifference to the awful absolute death that is contained in its slender fangs. He keeps it coiled round his body next the skin, inside the shirt, where it lovingly nestles, and any one who is willing to pay for his curiosity can see him put his hand in and drag the living, writhing death out. "Calf Shirt" claims to have some subtle power over snakes, and to see him take his present specimen up, one measuring about three feet long, catch it by the neck and cram about 8 inches of it, the deadliest reptile in America, head downwards, down his throat, is calculated to make the marrow in any man's bones shiver. He also puts it out on the ground and playfully puts it on the back of the head with his finger, till the snake rattles as if it was performing for the benefit of all the babies in Canada. It is not a pleasant sight for one with weak nerves and who understands what a rattlesnake is.—MacLeod Gazette.

Two carloads of butter have been shipped from Calgary to Japan.

The C. P. R. agents west of Winnipeg have received instructions to charge for storage on all goods stored in their warehouse beyond seventy-two hours.—Ex.

There was a sad scene around Mercier's bed the day before he died. He summoned his family to his bedside for adieus, which were most pathetic. His last words were, "I am prepared to die, but it is a sad thing to leave my dear wife and children. Tell my friends my last thoughts were for them. Tell my opponents I have forgotten all. Tell all I worked for my country."

LOCAL.

THIRTY-nine settlers from the United States came up on Monday's train, 29 of whom were from Minnesota, 3 from Dakota, 2 from Michigan and 5 from Montana.

Just now the need of the long promised traffic bridge is most severely felt. Traffic across the river which has been insufferably slow during the past three weeks was entirely suspended this morning and will so remain for an indefinite period. Foot passengers cross in small boats amongst the floating ice at great risk to themselves and even that dangerous mode of travel cannot be depended upon to continue. From present appearances it will be as long between the first parliamentary appropriation for the bridge and its actual construction as it was in the case of the new land office.

On Sunday morning last, Rev. G. W. Dean delivered a special sermon to children in the form of an object lesson. His text was taken from the words "The kingdom of God is within you." As children are naturally inquisitive, he went on to show how the Kingdom of God could be within them and yet they could enter the kingdom of God. His illustration was one of two bottles in a room, one empty and the other full of sand. Though both were in the same room, capable of taking in the atmosphere they had entered, both were not full of that atmosphere; but only the empty bottle; so with the Kingdom of God, it only enters into those who are prepared to receive it and are not choked up with sin. Each kingdom had its products, the chief of which was righteousness, illustrated in obedience to parents. He also explained to them the various forms of untruthfulness such as the silent lie, exaggeration and compromise, illustrating in the simplest manner possible by means of the lengths of a piece of string.

FIRE BRIGADE.

The regular meeting of the Edmonton fire brigade was held in the fire hall on Monday night, K. A. McLeod, chief of the brigade, presiding.

Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved. Wilson—Oliver. That J. Saunders and W. Mortimer be admitted members of the brigade.

Fortin—Price. That J. Lubback, M. Love and W. Fraser be admitted into membership. Wilson—Fortin. That J. O. Vanbuskirk be requested to send in his resignation as secretary.

Hockley—Wilson. That the secretary be instructed to write to the town council informing them that several of the members had been taxed with poll tax from which they should be exempt.

Goodwin—Hockley. That the council be requested to take off $2 from all firemen's taxes. Carried. This was an amendment to a motion by T. Cairney, seconded by A. Dando, that members of the fire brigade who had no property and who are assessed for income be exempt to the sum of $2.

Fortin—Hockley. That J. Bell be elected assistant chief of the brigade. Fortin—Wilson. That J. D. Clarke be appointed secretary.

Sanderson—Oliver. That the secretary be instructed to write the council asking them to provide the brigade with a cupboard with good lock and key, in which to keep the papers, as at the present time they are often missing when wanted.

The meeting adjourned at 9 p. m.

Mr. Randolph Bruce, the engineer from Calgary, who has been for some time stationed at that point in the interests of the projected Kananis Fork railway, left yesterday for the west. Mr. Bruce did not wish to say anything about the prospects of the railway being built at present as he had no information to give of authority. He was very enthusiastic about the development of lands in the Northwest by means of irrigation, and observed to a free Press Bulletin reporter that no less than forty-seven private individuals had turned the water on to their estates this year. The estates or ranches in question run from 200 to 5,000 acres in extent, and the water is carried to each by means of an open ditch along the high level of the farm. This ditch is tapped at various distances and a furrow from a plough will carry and direct a stream to any point desired. Mr. Bruce stated that even on one year's trial, the hay crop had been more than doubled, and the meadows were now being flooded for the advantage of next year's growth. "The result will be to greatly increase the value of land in the Northwest," he said, "and to increase the grazing power of a small farm and its consequent carrying of stock to an immense extent."—Free Press.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

The following address accompanied by a pretty Japanese writing desk was presented to Miss Nellie Mitchell by her classmates of the Baptist church Sunday school, last Sunday afternoon, the occasion being her leaving Edmonton for her former home in Dundee, Scotland.

EDMONTON, Nov. 4th, 1894.

To Miss NELLIE MITCHELL.

DEAR NELLIE.—As you are about to leave our school for your own home in a distant land, we the girls of your class would ask you to accept this desk as a slight token of the friendship we have for you.

Since coming into our midst you have made many friends and your deep interest in our school has been shown in your regularity and punctuality.

Your absence will be felt not only by your classmates, but by the whole school.

We trust the lessons you have learned will prove a lasting benefit to you, and that you may be able to tell your people in Scotland, that in the Edmonton Sunday school you learned of Jesus and his love, who is the same in all lands.

Should we never meet again in Sunday school, we hope that everyone of our class will meet in Heaven.

Signed—Maggie Young, Grace Ritchie, Louisa Umbach, Edith Bellamy, Eva Watson and Lily Umbach.

One of the Bible class suitably replied, thanking Nellie's classmates for those tokens of their friendship and esteem which would ever be highly prized in remembrance of the donors.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—At a meeting of St. George's society last night the secretary stated that the number of able bodied men applying for relief during the last month was unprecedented.

Toronto branch of the National Council of Women last night solicited the co-operation of the public school board in an effort to have the school act amended so as to provide for manual training in public schools.

Hon. L. H. Davies who presided at the meeting of Maritime Liberals said to a Free Press representative at St. Johns, N. B., that he thought the general elections would be brought on in February as soon as the list was made up. Mr. Davies says the opposition contemplate a political campaign commencing on or about November 24th, and extending over portions of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—The Toronto Telegram to-day says: "An Ontario conservative member of parliament, who is in town to-day, is authority for the statement that A. W. Ross, M. P. for Lisgar, will not be given the lieutenant-governorship of Manitoba, a position for which he has been striving. Ross and Daly, the visitor said, do not pull together. The minister of the interior, as is well known, has not been uniformly successful in the management of his department, and the comparisons which have been made between him and Ross, to the advantage of the latter gentleman, have given Daly umbrage. It is possible the statement that Daly used his influence against Ross may be true. The minister of the interior is reported to have a dark horse under his care, and will do his best to defeat Ross."
